

MULTI-LAYER GOLF BALL WITH A THIN THERMOSET OUTER LAYER

ABSTRACT

- 5 A golf ball including a core; an intermediate layer formed from a polymer blend including a first material having a flexural modulus of between about 65,000 psi and about 120,000 psi and a second material including a grafted-metallocene polymer; and a cover layer formed from a castable reactive liquid material.